I Love Dirt!: 52 Activities to Help You and Your Kids Discover the Wonders of Nature

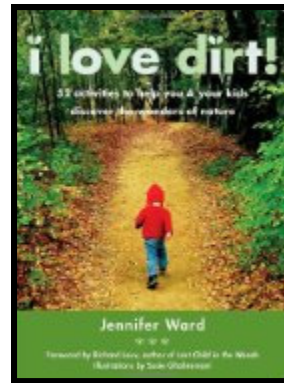

by Jennifer Ward

796.083

W213

PAR LIB

Parents, teachers, caregivers, and children are so sure to discover new outdoor activities, no matter what the season. Ward not only includes activities, but science lessons for each section to help answer questions such as "How old are trees?", "Why does snow stick together?", and "Are all ladybugs ladies?" For more on the topic, try Richard Louv's Last Child in the Woods: Saving Our Children From Nature-Deficit Disorder (Louv wrote the forward to I Love Dirt!).

Spring Cleaning?

Think of the West Fargo Historical Center before discarding your old yearbooks, maps, or other West Fargo memorabilia. Contact Mary Jo at 433-5460 for more information on donating to the West Fargo Historical Center.

Toyota's Brake Recall on Auto Repair Reference Center (Ebsco)

If you've purchased a Toyota, check out Auto Repair Reference (ARRC), an online resource, where you can find out about recalls. ARRC is easy to use, just select the year of your car, the make, the model, and you can easily read about any recalls issued for your automobile. Visit ARRC for your other car care questions such as repair and troubleshooting.
