North Dakota Librarian of the Year

Library Director Sandra Hannahs has been named North Dakota Library Association's Librarian of the Year. The award is "given to an NDLA member who has made notable contributions to the North Dakota library profession, has furthered significant development of libraries in North Dakota, or has performed exemplary statewide service for an extended period of time."

"Winter-Friendly" Ways to Use Your Library

Winter is just around the corner, which means there are times when you can't get to Library due to the weather. If you're near Eagle Run - the Eagle Run bookdrop is available for returning items 24/7. If you're not ready to return your items - renewing is available online or by phone. When you're unable to get the library, books and magazines are just a click away. Library2Go & Zinio have you covered for reading materials on any Internet computer or mobile device. Whether you're looking for personal enrichment or you need to jump start your career, Gale Courses allows you to take a class from home. If you're wondering if the Library is closed due to severe weather, be sure to check the Library website.

Art in the Library

The Library has two art exhibits this month. One exhibit is located in the Friends' Nook (on the upper level). Participants painted fall leaves during a recent watercolor class. The second exhibit is located in the Children's Corner. Come and view artwork by local elementary students.

Mitten Tree

The Library's Mitten Tree will be up November 28 through December 31. Donated mittens, scarves, and hats will be hung on the Mitten Tree and donated to West Fargo school children in need. Please consider donating winter items so local children will stay warm this winter.

Holidays

The Library will be closed November 11th (Veteran's Day) and November 27th (Thanksgiving).
